About DynaPubs

January 1, 1974 marks the beginning of the fourth year of DynaPubs. Back in December of 1970, the idea for our first publication, THE BUYER'S GUIDE FOR COMIC FANDOM, was born. It premiered in February, 1971 as a monthly and grew until #17 (July, 1972) when the volume of support was so great we made it bi-weekly (twice a month). It has remained there to this day (See page 3--opposite).

Then, in early 1973, because of the high popularity of the comic STRIP and because the best comic strips -- those from 1900 to 1945 -- were being greatly neglected, we started a weekly tabloid newspaper reprinting the best of those strips. Borrowing from private collectors and buying them from dealers, we printed what everyone wanted to see. Because of an excellent lineup, VINTAGE FUNNIES has become the best-selling comic strip weekly around! (See pages 8 - 11).

Shortly after VINTAGE FUNNIES was such a success, we started FAVORITE FUNNIES as a companion magazine. Unfortunately, the paper shortage and royalty complications forced it's discontinuation after issue #12, The main comic strips featured in FAVORITE FUNNIES were added to VINTAGE FUNNIES already impressive lineup. Back issue set F-A of FAVORITE FUNNIES is just $5.00--see page 14.

And then, most recently, came FLASHBACK. Comic book fans were complaining louder and louder about the sky-high prices of Golden Age Comics (1938-1945), especially those super-rare number one titles and origin issues. So, we came up with reprints of comics--the entire issues--for under $3.00 a copy. We'll pay the high prices of up to $450.00 to give you the reprints. We just want to make it possible for every comics fan to have a great collection without going broke. (See page 4)

Of course, these reprint publications weren't all designed JUST for you. I must confess that a big part of why they are published comes from the fact that I, msyelf, wanted to own them. Instead of waiting for someone else to come along and do it, I decided "Why not me?".

So, because of all these projects that need support, I decided to put out a little catalog and give it away to anyone I thought would like what we have to offer.

We're now the largest publishers in fandom. But we don't act like a big, stuffy organization because we aren't. We're fans just like you who've put our dreams to reality -- giving good, reliable service to our customers. Our most important goal is to see that you enjoy our products. We hope we succeed.

Best wishes,

Alan Light
